

Barbie

Over 60 years ago a lady called Ruth Handler first created Barbie from inspiration after watching her daughter project her dreams and aspirations on to paper dolls. From then on, Barbie has become the most popular fashion doll ever to be produced and become the most diverse fashion doll on the market. Barbie has empowered girls to imagine themselves in aspirational roles from a princess to president, and has a historical line celebrating notable women throughout history. Barbie is more than a doll. She is a part of pop culture.
